

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jackson Names Axel André Chief Financial Officer Current Jackson CFO, Chad Myers, moves into newly created Vice Chair role

LANSING, Mich. — Feb. 3, 2020 — Jackson National Life Insurance Company[®] (Jackson[®]) today announced that Axel André has been named Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Jackson. André most recently served as Chief Financial Officer of Individual Retirement at AIG. He will be based in the company's Lansing, Michigan office and will assume his new role effective Feb. 24, 2020.

André joined AIG in 2013 and initially served as Chief Risk Officer for Individual Retirement, Group Retirement, and Institutional Markets. He was promoted to Chief Financial Officer of Individual Retirement at AIG in 2018, where he was responsible for overseeing all aspects of the finance and actuarial value chain for the Individual Retirement business, including hedging, performance measurement and reporting, financial reporting, and capital management. Prior to his time at AIG, André served in a variety of leadership roles on the Global Insurance Strategies team at Goldman Sachs.

"I am delighted to welcome Axel to the Jackson team," said Michael Falcon, Chief Executive Officer, Jackson Holdings, LLC. "Axel has a proven track record as a strong leader as well as a fiduciary and risk management mindset that reflects our core Jackson values. His broad experience across products, markets and competitors is an outstanding complement to our already strong capabilities, as we continue to position ourselves for future growth."

"I look forward to joining the Jackson team," André added. "I have always had a great appreciation for the team's consistent track record of success through the years and am excited to build upon that success as we continue to serve the needs of American retirees."

André's arrival coincides with the announcement that current Jackson CFO, Chad Myers, will be moving into the newly created role of Vice Chair of Jackson Holdings, LLC. In this new role, Myers will have direct responsibility for the Jackson asset management and institutional product teams, while continuing to report to Michael Falcon.

"This expansion of our leadership team and broadening of our capabilities are aligned to Jackson's future development, including through the development of new products and distribution," Falcon said. "Chad's leadership and financial stewardship are reflected in Jackson's strong business performance in his past nine years as CFO. I look forward to continuing to work with him through this transition and in his new role as Vice Chair, where he can bring his insight, skill and creativity to bear to further support our strategic initiatives and growth.”
